

CatchIT – New Release for Mobile Phone users

Key features

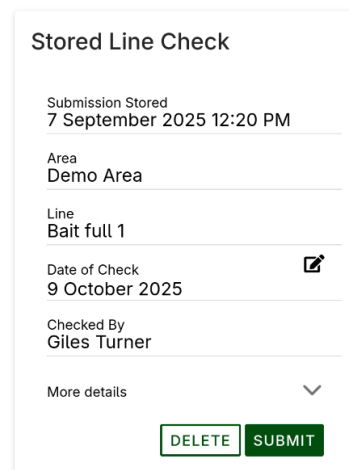

- CatchIT will automatically launch in mobile mode when you log in on your phone. From the start page, click the button ‘Store a New Line on this Device’.
- Each line you choose is stored on your phone. Once stored you can always check your lines regardless of whether you are online or offline.
- You can store multiple lines on your phone and perform multiple checks when you are offline.
- When you work offline, your line checks are automatically saved in the phone. Saved line checks can be submitted when you are back online.
- The trap configuration and other setup details about your stored lines are automatically updated when your phone is online.

You only need to store the line once when you are online. Click Start Check to add data any time

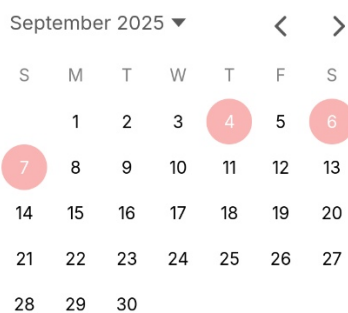

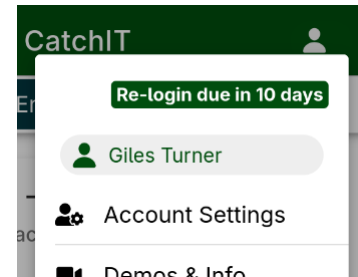

- You can swipe your screen to easily switch between traps or other devices during your line check.
- Mobile data entry is available for Trap Lines, Bait Station Lines, Monitoring Lines including tracking tunnels and chew cards, and any other Custom Lines you are working with.
- Maps are automatically saved when viewed while online, and are then also visible when you are offline.
- At present, when you are working offline the labels for your traps/stations/devices will not be visible on the map, but this feature will be available soon in a future release.
- CatchIT can be installed as an App on your phone simply by navigating to the website from your browser and creating a shortcut to your home screen. See the short video below for more on how to do this.

When you are back online, review the data and click Submit.

Other improvements

- Button sizes have been increased to make operations easier.
- You can stay logged into CatchIT for up to 10 days without having to re-authenticate.
- In the Manage Data section, you can see summary information for your saved line checks before you submit them.

- Before submitting your saved line check, you can change the date of the check if needed.
- Previous line check submissions are now shown on your calendar, as filled red circles. This also works when you are offline.
- All types of custom fields are clearly displayed, plus you can easily swipe your screen up or down to see all your fields when you have many custom fields.

Feedback

This is a full rewrite of our mobile phone features, so we'd appreciate any feedback you have. Please let us know if you come across any issues or anything you find confusing, so we can make these new features work as smoothly as possible for you and other users.

After you have logged in to CatchIT, you can find the feedback section in the user menu at the top right.
